TO LAY CORNER STONE SOON
Expected Stone Presented by J. E. Walker Will Be Ready Friday, September 17.

The builders are making good headway on the new stone structure for Grace Methodist church, the foundation being all in and the superstructure is well started. It is expected now that the corner stone will be formally laid on Friday, September 17. The stone is the gift to the church by Joseph E. Walker, who will draw it to the church as soon as it is ready.

All the local clergy will take part in the dedicatory services and the regular service in the church ritual will be followed. The stone will contain copies of the local papers, church records, etc.

GOOD FAIR WEATHER

Large Number Attended Annual County Fair—Three Days Of Good Racing—Some Prize Winners.

The management of the Caledonia County fair was favored with four good days last week and with liberal attendance on Wednesday and Thursday. Some exhibits were brought in after the inspection made last week Tuesday which improved the appearance of the show. Still there was very little competition in the different classes. In cattle there was no competition outside of the holsteins and jerseys and in horses little outside of driving horses shown by ladies. The racing program was better than in recent years. There was a good list of starters and sharp competition for third and fourth positions. With one exception the races were won in three heats with the first money never in doubt. One or two tires came off sukkies causing some anxiety and there was a little collision Friday afternoon between Roxalana and Common Voter in which Harding, driver of Roxalana, was slightly injured. Otherwise there was little excitement. The summary:

REUNION IN CONCORD

Folks Meet In Honor Of Willard Chase, A Former Resident—Many Old Timers Present.

One of the most pleasant events of the summer and an occasion long to be remembered by those present was the dinner party given in the vestry of the First Universalist church, at Concord Saturday. About 75 were present among them many former residents of the town. The dinner was given in honor of Willard Chase of Grants Pass, Ore., who was a life long resident of Concord until about 11 years ago when he moved west and after a short time spent in California, has since made his home in Oregon. The hostess, Mrs. Helen (Continued on page four.)

Gas Cooking Means Summer Comfort

Strike a match—light the gas—there is no waiting for a fire—the kitchen is always cool.

The biggest baking can be accomplished without heat, fuss, or bother. A whole dinner can be prepared in the gas oven without trouble. The early breakfast becomes the most pleasant meal of the day.

Gas cooking leads to comfort, convenience, economy—and plenty of time for pleasure.

But, perhaps there are times when the kitchen is a trifle chilly. You know that often the best gas stove can scarcely replace some of the advantages of the old coal range.

The range you need is neither all-coal or all-gas—but a real gas range and a real coal range inbuilt in one scientific construction. And there is only one such range.

THE "SCIENTIFIC STERLING"

The Gas Range that Burns Coal.

Cooks, boils, bakes, broils, heats water, as well with one fuel as the other—standard five burner gas equipment—standard six hole coal range—all in one range that takes up no more room in your kitchen than the ordinary one-fuel range.
